

August 24, 2010

Contact: (509) 535-0886

IT'S POW WOW WEEKEND IN SPOKANE!

The 21st Annual Riverfront Park Indian Encampment & Pow Wow Begins Friday

The Spokane Falls Northwest Indian Encampment & Pow Wow brings to life significant cultural celebration as dancers, their families and the public convene August 27th and 28th in the Lilac Bowl in Riverfront Park.

By tradition, pow wows are a time for gathering and a time for celebration. Pow wows are a significant source of cultural heritage for everyone who lives in the Inland Northwest, not just the tribes. The Riverfront Park Pow Wow, now in its 21st year, offers a variety of activities for celebration including dancing, cultural activities for children, and a marketplace.

Dance grand entries begin: Friday evening at 7:00 p.m. and Saturday at 1:00 p.m. & 7:00 p.m.

Location: Riverfront Park Lilac Bowl

Time: 10:00 a.m. - 11:00 p.m. daily

Cost: Free for spectators

Details: Competitive dancing with beautiful native singing along with arts, crafts and food booths

For further information: (509) 535-0886

###